Do you enjoy working with numbers and have the skills to collect and process accurate and efficient data in a team of data managers, helping improve care for kidney patients?

The core of our business at the UK Renal Registry is data – good quality, accurate, complete and timely. We collect this data from several different sources and it's vital that it is processed accurately, securely and within necessary timeframes. We use the data we collect to maintain a high quality clinical database about kidney disease, which contributes towards continuous improvement of patient care.

The role

The data managers liaise with data providers across the NHS and ensure data are collected, validated and loaded into the databases.

The person

If you are proactive, with speed, accuracy and attention to detail, and confident with Microsoft Office, we want to hear from you. We are looking for applicants with a tenacious, inquisitive attitude, an analytical mind and the determination and commitment to investigate and resolve data inconsistencies. You will also have the ability to communicate with a variety of colleagues and be an excellent team worker.

You will receive thorough induction and training to ensure a complete understanding of the dataset, to enable excellent support of all our stakeholders.

How to apply

Please send applications to jennifer.barwell@renalregistry.nhs.uk. Please include in your application your CV and a covering letter outlining your experience and skills highlighting your suitability for this vacancy, against the requirements outlined in the job description and person specification.
